

Ask any successful author what books have helped him most and if he is honest he will tell you those that he himself wrote.

They say Sam Jones is a capital illustration of his own remark that "when God wants a good man he makes him as ugly as a mud fence."

It is told that a tree was cut in the forest near Augusta, Ga., at six o'clock in the morning, and by night had been turned into newspapers, which people were reading.

The Pope is suffering from a liver complaint and is losing strength. He has been ordered to take mineral waters before breakfast. He continues to work and receive visitors.

A mandarin in Dickson county, Tennessee, planted watermelons just at the edge of his farm, and the vines ran over into a neighbors field and produced so many and such large melons that the neighbor is about to sue for trespass.

A Gentleman of Boston bought a large lot of land at the South End about 20 years ago for which he paid $5,000. He closed the last of it recently, and his receipts from the sale of the same lot netted him $250,000.

Boots are said to have been the invention of the Carians. They were mentioned by Homer, 907 B. C., and frequently by Roman historians. An instrument of torture, termed "the boot," was used in Scotland upon the Covenanters about 1666.

A new patent candlestick keeps the candle perpendicular, no matter how the stick may be held. The main principle of the invention is a ball joint of the simplest kind at the bottom of the socket, the latter being attached to an arm from the side of the base and extending to the center. The comfort and safety of the construction is apparent.

Cornelius Vanderbilt and Elliott F. Shepard allow each of their six children a certain amount of pocket money each month, and they are required to keep cash accounts and present them to their papas the first of the month. The amounts are not large, and are given more to make the little millionaires understand the value of money than to augment it.

Sir John Millais says of modern sculpture that so fine is much of the work produced by our contemporaries that he verily believes that "were it dug up from under oyster-shells in Rome or out of Athenian sand, with a stamp of partial dismemberment about it, all Europe would fall straightway into ecstasy, and give forth their plaintive wail: 'We can do nothing like that now!'"

France is surprised at the operation of its new divorce law. The first year saw such a thing as a divorce was recognized by the law there were 1,800 granted, the second year 4,000 and the third year 4,500. Sixty women demand divorce for every hundred men, and in more than half the cases that come before the courts there are no children. There are four divorces for every 1,000 marriages in France now, and in Paris the rate is forty-seven for every 1,000 marriages.

Mr. Alfred Nobel, the inventor and chief manufacturer of dynamite, is emphatically a man of peace, and deprecates the use of the explosive, a destroyer of human life. "If I did not regard it as the whole of a great blessing to humanity," he said recently, "I would close up all my factories and never make another ounce of the stuff." He detests the use of dynamite by the Anarchists, and when he heard of the Haymarket butchery at Chicago he exclaimed: "I would like to gather the whole crowd of dynamite and blow them all up together."

A famous man-eating tiger has just been captured alive in India. A pit was dug for a trap and baited with a live bullock. After two days the beast came around and promptly jumped into it. To capture him a second pit was dug near the first and of the same depth. From this a tunnel was run to the first pit, a thin wall of earth being left between the end of the tunnel and the pit. A strong bamboo cage was pushed into the tunnel from a second pit. A goat was placed in the cage, and the wall of the earth was broken down. The tiger sprang upon the goat, the entrance to the cage was quickly closed, and the beast was fast, and stayed so until he was in Calcutta.

Not long ago Lord Wolsley declared that England, so far as coast defenses are concerned, is in a lamentable weak condition, and that a foreign fleet would have no difficulty in inflicting great damage upon the cities located on the coast. The London papers ridiculed the assertion and sneeringly alluded to "Lord Wolsley's Scare." But it was finally decided to try by maneuvers of the British ships whether or not there was any ground for Lord Wolsley's conclusions. These maneuvers were of an interesting character and the result bore out the statements of Lord Wolsley. In spite of the most watchful care on the part of the defending squadron, the attacking squadron easily entered the British ports and if it had belonged to a hostile nation could have done no damage to life and property.

Doings at Washington.
The secretary of the treasury appointed Charles M. Taylor, a well known banker, to be the district director of the lands granted to the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. The amount paid to the company for the month to date are $5,000,000 in excess of the amount needed for the same period.

The senate committee on pensions was given consideration by Senator Fairwell's bill providing for a pension for Mrs. Sheridan. The amount fixed in the bill was $10,000. The bill was reported by Mr. Davis.

The land made an argument before the Senate committee on public lands in favor of his bill for the forfeiture of that portion of the lands granted to the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, which had not been certified to by the state for the benefit of the state of Minnesota. The bill was introduced by the one which had passed the House and was now before the Senate.

The state department has received a communication from the United States Consul General at Canton, China, which has been forwarded to the State department. The communication contains many natives who have embraced the Christian faith, have been severely persecuted. The American Baptist Union, which recently announced that no more consular aid will be requested, and that native members must be received from the Chinese authorities. The consul general states that the treaty between China and the United States, which was signed in 1858, was never carried out.

Prot. A. B. Gould, of Brainerd, is in attendance at the state council of the Minnesota schools at Minneapolis.

A. L. Nutting has purchased a lot at the corner of Fourth and Beaulieu streets, and has a force of men at work clearing off the brush and getting the ground ready for a residence which he will put up this summer. House 18x26, two-story, with lean-to, 12x14. -Mottley Register.

The Presbyterian congregations, says the Duluth Tribune, at the head of the lake have decided to form a new presbytery and a meeting will be held at Duluth Sept. 12th, for that purpose. This will include Duluth, Brainerd, Two Harbors, Tower, Superior, N. P. Junction and Cloquet.

We see by the Duluth Tribune that Mrs. Gauze and Mrs. Meisen, of that city, are enroute for Brainerd to organize a humane society. If there is any one thing that Brainerd needs at the present time when we are just entering upon a red hot political campaign, both local and national, it is a society of that character. The office seekers certainly needs some protection.

A union mass meeting will be held at the Congregational church on Sunday evening next, and will be addressed by Mr. S. Sherin, state secretary of the Minnesota Sabbath School Association. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock the gentleman will address a children's meeting at the Methodist church and all Sabbath School children are invited. At 4 o'clock at the same place the teachers and workers will have a chance of listening to the gentleman.

Dan Sully in Daddy Nolan. One of the best entertainments ever yet given in this city will be that of "Daddy Nolan" by the famous Irish comedian, Dan Sully, and his company, next Saturday evening. Mr. Sully is foremost among the Irish actors of the day, and the great success he has had during the past four years is proof that his entertainments are liked by the public. He brings to Brainerd the same company that has played with him in New York, San Francisco, Chicago and other cities. He also brings his special scenery, including the remarkable Brooklyn Bridge set—an exact scenic fac simile of the great structure.

The Contract Let.

The county commissioners have let the contract to I. U. White for building the new poor house at the county farm in the town of Oakland. The bids were opened on Saturday last and were found to be as follows:

H. C. Miller.....$4,400

A. Everett.....4,395

T. P. Russell.....3,700

I. U. White.....3,500

The specifications call for a building the main part of which is to be 28x60 with 20 foot posts and an addition 24x32 with 10 foot posts. The upper story of the main building is divided into two wards and six bedrooms with a hall between; on the lower floor there are two entirely separate compartments, one for women and one for men, and composed of a sitting room and two bed rooms each, with closets, etc. The addition will be used for a kitchen and dining room. Under this there is a stone basement 24x32. The building is to be finished in good style, with a portico 32 feet long and eight feet wide on the front. When completed Crow Wing county will have as fine a poor farm and buildings as there is in this section. Mr. White expects to complete the job in about sixty days.

Successful Catholic Fair.

The Catholic fair which closed on Saturday evening last was a financial success to that society, the amount cleared being $1,100. There were several articles awarded by vote the result of which is as follows:

A toilet case, Miss Maggie Meekins and Miss Belle Dolan. Won by Miss Meekins. Total receipts $455.

A gold ring, Miss Nora McCormick and Miss Cosy McDonald. Won by Miss McCormick. Total receipts $85.

A broom, Mrs. H. Theviot and Mrs. Con. O'Brien. Won by Mrs. Theviot. Total receipts $140.

A washing machine contributed by Mrs. Bannan, awarded by chance. Winner, George N. Day. Total receipts $20.

Two Dollars For a Wife.

A little sensation has been created in Mottley. The first of the week one of our citizens offered his neighbor two dollars for his wife, the latter accepted, and a bill of sale was given. And what is more, the husband by emption is said to be living with her. The purchaser says he doesn't want to abandon a joke half way. A tin pan serenade has been talked of but nothing done. The band should practice on the "Rogue's March." As both parties are subscribers to the Register, this episode may argue adversely for the moral influence of the press! -Mottley Register.

A Coming Attraction.

"One dollar and a half for reserved seats? Well they are fully worth it," said Lawyer Fernald of our city, in speaking of the price of tickets for the Louis James and Marie Wainwright engagement at the Opera House next Wednesday night, when they present Knowles' romantic play of Virginia. This great historic couple are only rivaled by Booth and Barrett, and Marie Wainwright has no equal on the American stage in the classic drama. Of their performance last Tuesday night in St. Paul the Globe of that city says:

When one or two actors or actresses who have been the leading support of some great star for many years essay themselves to make fame and fortune as stars there are always many hypocritical people who are ready to cry out: "Failure is inevitable." So it was with Louis James and Marie Wainwright when they started out three years ago on their starting tour. But the tone of remarks has changed since then. There was not one of the fashionable audience who sat in the Grand Opera house last night—an audience composed of cultured people capable of appreciating a presentation of the art of the stage—who did not go away with the impression that they had been privileged to witness the most finished production of "Hamlet" that historic art can produce.

Mr. James' robust physique is again a factor in giving a presentation of the ideal Hamlet. Yet this is the least of it in the superb dramatic work that he does, in his effective reading of the lines, and in the close attention he pays to the details of the performance. His deep and powerful voice is so thoroughly in accord with the historical idea of the age and the country incorporated in the play, one can almost imagine he sees in the blue-eyed, flaxen-haired impersonator the veritable Hamlet, the Dane. There has never been a finer stage creation than Marie Wainwright's Ophelia. It is one of those gems of historic art that is a joy forever. But as often and as well as Miss Wainwright has played Ophelia, she has played to better advantage than last night. Presumably actors are like other people in the respect that the superiority of their work is somewhat dependent on the mood they are in. If so, the audience at the Grand last evening were singularly blessed in finding Miss Wainwright in the happiest mood of her stage life, for her production of the mad scene was a performance that deserves to live in history. It is beyond criticism, or even description. When Miss Wainwright was with Mr. Barrett she earned a reputation for costuming correctly and elegantly, and she has kept it up. She stands at the head of the American profession to-day in that respect and in being a most conscientious actress. Her face is beautiful and her figure graceful and perfect. Her wonderfully sweet voice contrasts nicely with the heavier, though none the less rich tones of Mr. James, and together they not only give the most pleasing and thorough performances, but as a pair of stars their like cannot be duplicated in the whole dramatic constellation.

Mr. James and Miss Wainwright are supported by a most capable company. Many of the faces are new ones to St. Paul people, but they all understand their business. Among the familiar faces were those of Mr. Mosely, always an accomplished actor, who played Laertes; Mr. Langdon, whose Polonius is nearly equal to the titular role, and Mrs. Meek, who is almost as essential in the character of Gertrude as Hamlet is to the play. Of the new members of the company Miss H. H. Smith, Miss A. A. Koenig, a pleasing impression and gave evidence of capacity for fine work in parts where they have more extended opportunities.

I. M. Engberg, representing the Security Building and Loan Association, of Minneapolis, has been in the city during the past week, and succeeded in selling 250 shares of stock.

I am to have the opening with thirty minutes, you to follow with forty-five minutes, and I to close in fifteen minutes. Yours,

W. A. FLEMING.

Brainerd, August 31, 1888.

Why "tax" the poor man's clothing by increasing the price of wool.

CLEVELAND's attempt to twist the lion's tail came a little too late.

A CAMPAIGN in Minnesota without Donnelly would be a peculiar state of affairs.

CHARLES GILMAN is figuring quite extensively in this gubernatorial contest after all.

It is a much heavier weight to carry Mr. Cleveland and his record as president than it was to carry him as the great unknown.

It makes the "Friar" squirm when you call him a free-trader. The yoke galls him, but we can't see how he's going to get it off.

The farmer element in Wisconsin have at last triumphed, and W. D. Hoard has been nominated for governor on the republican ticket.

"GIL" HARTLEY is reported as having addressed a large crowd opposite the St. Louis hotel in Duluth last night on Protection vs. Free Trade.

With Warner Miller to head the state ticket in New York the republicans are bound to sweep the state. New York will go republican this fall.

With an Englishman and a Roman on the democratic ticket it certainly will be funny if the two good loyal American citizens on the republican ticket can not win.

COUNTY politics are beginning to assume a crimson hue. It is asserted that as high as $200 has been offered for the influence of a certain man in a certain direction.

The Journal has just discovered that New York is going democratic. If its editors can convince the balance of democracy that this is a fact he will have performed his mission here below.

The aspirant for congress from Little Falls, Jonathan Simmons, on the democratic ticket, has been in Brainerd this week in conference with leading democratic gentlemen. Mr. Simmons is a popular man with his party.

IGNATIUS DONNELLY has been nominated for governor of Minnesota on the labor ticket, and Donnelly's insane itch for office has led him to accept. It is really too bad that Bro. Stivers isn't in a position to support the labor candidate for governor, but circumstances, over which he has no control, prevent it.

The Halifax Herald let the cat out of the bag a few days ago when it warned the Canadian organs not to express "sympathy" with President Cleveland's ideas, lest they should "embarrass the democratic party in those states where the real contest lies." President Cleveland must be made to learn that an American president should seek the applause of his fellow citizens, rather than to cater to every nation except his own.

What a time the Friar must have had reading the platform of the New York Republicans. He read the platform over several times he says, and could not find a word about the tariff. This is really too bad. But we only read a part of it and found that they endorsed the Republican national platform tariff plank and all. We think there need be no doubt as to the position of our New York brethren—they are for protection, Brother Stivers.

The democrats in Morrison county have been awakened to a sense of their duty by a three column letter from Dr. Wm. Breyfogle, a life long democrat and a supporter of Cleveland in 1884. Mr. Breyfogle is the president of a company of capitalists from Louisville, Ky., who have invested thousands of dollars in the Little Falls water power, and he says "it will never do to carry out Cleveland's free trade policy" and urges his friends to vote for Harrison and Morton and the protective tariff.

For the benefit of the Journal we will state that the Voice of People is being sent all over this great state of Minnesota by Albert Scheffer and his managers. And for fear that the Journal will not know why Mr. Scheffer should send it around we will add for its information that he is a candidate for governor, and bought up this Voice at a low figure, and sent its editor, one Berkheimer, out through the country on a starting tour. If the Journal man will go into any town in the state, he will find this same state of affairs, and we trust that Judge Sleeper is not to be accused of endeavoring to work up a sentiment in Southern Minnesota. He's running in the Fifteenth Judicial District, you know, and the Journal's futile efforts to down him will not cut any figure in the case.

Judge Fleming for the Legislature.

We have the pleasure this week to present the name of Judge W. A. Fleming as a candidate for the republican nomination for the legislature from Crow Wing county. This is purely a case of the office seeking the man, a case so rare now-a-days that it must commend itself to all honest republicans in this city, and in this legislative district for that matter. During the past month there has been an urgent appeal from many prominent republicans for Mr. Fleming to announce himself as a candidate for the position without avail, but the sentiment has grown so strong that he could no longer resist the wishes of his friends in this matter and he has at last consented to allow them to use his name in that connection.

Judge Fleming is well known to a majority of our readers in this city, and his ability to ably represent us in the coming session of the legislature is not questioned. Two years ago he was elected to the position of municipal judge without opposition, and during his continuance in that office he has regulated matters coming under his jurisdiction in such a satisfactory manner that not one word of criticism has been heard. He is a man well up in his profession, of good sound judgment and executive ability, and we know of no better selection that could be made. The matter is entirely in the hands of Mr. Fleming's friends who will see that he is sent to the legislature by a good majority.

They are for Free Trade.

It is claimed, and it is undoubtedly true, that by the Mills bill, as passed by the house, a general reduction of 7 per cent. only is made on the present tariff duties, and this fact is foghorned all over the country as a complete answer to the charge that President Cleveland and his party are in favor of free trade. But it is no answer at all. In fact the average rate of duties on imports may be made even higher than it now is with no protection at all to our industries and our laborers afforded. How? By simply taking the duty off the products of American labor—of those articles which we manufacture and which ought to be protected against the cheap labor of Europe—and placing it upon what are called luxuries, such as tea, coffee, spices, and numberless other like commodities which we do not make or produce. In other words it is proposed by the democrats to collect revenues to run the government by taxing such goods as are produced in and come from foreign shores, and in which we have no special interest, instead of compelling the foreign manufacturer to pay us a duty upon his pauperized labor products before he is allowed to dump them upon our markets to compete with our wage earners and our manufacturers. Adopt the democratic plan and you impose a tax upon the consumer of luxuries, but you have at the same time let in the foreign manufacturer, duty free, to compete with our manufacturers. This is England's way and it was Cobden's way, and Cobden was the father of free trade in England. It is not, therefore, a question of this or that per cent. but upon what shall we impose any duty at all. The Southern idea is, that having nothing but sugar and rice to protect, it will be better for her, at least, to adopt the English method of raising revenues. But the North, alive as she is with the busy hum of industry, cannot afford to commit so suicidal an act. Protection to American industries is the battle cry, and no amount of cheap clap-trap talk about 7 per cent.—not even an occasional fishy message from His Excellency—can turn the attention of the people away from the fact that the democratic party has pronounced itself against the grand old republican doctrine of protection. We believe in protection and have said so time and time again and are now proclaiming it from every republican stump in the United States. On the other hand the democratic leaders are for free trade, and have said so, but they do not now like the crowd which they are compelled to eat, and are trying to evade the matter by throwing sand into the eyes of the public in the shape of per cents. and messages.

Bro. STIVERS must be laboring under the impression that there is a big fish lying around loose somewhere. He sends out a challenge to a joint discussion of the tariff question, and in so doing he is safe, because he knows that he, being the challenger, would have the opening in which to discuss the question from his own standpoint, and that, too, after a thorough preparation, while his opponent would have to answer him upon the spur of the moment without any preparation, or thought even, whatever. Especially would he have a great advantage in a discussion of the tariff question, because it reaches out in so many different directions and has so many sides to it, that one could not even guess what the views of the gentle Friar would be.

Gov. McGUIRE has pardoned W. F. Myrick, a printer, who was sentenced to State Prison at Stillwater, for life, three years ago, for killing a man for slandering his wife.

In Baltimore 175 workmen employed by Shoelock & Co., sheepskin and morocco dealers, paraded with Harrison flags on their way to an excursion steamer. Every man of this force voted for Cleveland four years ago.

William L. Scott, the coal baron, who pays lower wages than any other operator, who employs Pinkerton detectives to coerce his miners, who pays his miners in store orders, and who is generally denounced by labor organizations as a tyrannical master, will have charge of Mr. Cleveland's campaign. Scott has been elected chairman of the national democratic executive committee.—Labor Echo.

Duluth is Bled. If the St. Louis county republicans don't like the Aldin arrangement, they should meet here, nominate a candidate for the legislature and elect him in November. It used to be St. Paul and Minneapolis that blighted our hopes, and now Aldin chews our ham like a worm in the bud.—Paragrapher.

We really feel sorry for the Journal editor, for we have hurt his feelings—called someone a precious fellow. How ready some people are to have their corns tread upon. Some of these "precious" fellows might be yourself, Bro. Stivers, or some of the crowd that started the great cry of fraud when this decision in the land cases was given. Don't you be alarmed about there being no appeal if there are any grounds for it on account of a lack of funds. Mr. "Non-partisan" would readily put up the shiners if he had any idea that he could reverse the decision. "Pity, 'tis, 'tis true."

The democrats are telling the farmers that free wool will increase the price and the manufacturers that it will give them cheaper wool. Suppose the wool growers and the woolen manufacturers should get together and compare notes, what then?

Too Thin.

Several democratic papers are publishing the following article claiming that it is copied from an eminent English journal. The object is to endeavor to head off the fact that England is working for Free Trade Cleveland by endeavoring to show that they do not understand that he favors them. The fact is, the article was manufactured right here in America, and it is so ridiculous that we publish it.

"The news is received this morning of the nomination for the presidency by the democrats of Mr. Harrison. This places him in opposition to Gen. Cleveland, nominated by the Republicans at Buffalo, Ohio." It is understood that a crisis is imminent, and that Gen. Hayes, the present incumbent of the office, will return to his farm in Boston. It seems that two other men have also been nominated as substitutes, in case the regular nominees should be killed during the campaign, which will be carried on with vigor. On the republican ticket is Prof. Morton, of Alaska, but at present living in Florida, though it is said that he claims to be a resident of the great agricultural State of Philadelphia. On the democratic ticket is Dr. Thomson, a distinguished Italian, born near Rome in the early part of 1783. He at present conducts a gymnasium in the city of Kentucky and has a large personal following, who refer to him affectionately as the old Roman. It is predicted that the nominees will call out a full vote. Mr. Harrison will make a thorough canvass, speaking at Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Lake Erie, Mammoth Cave, and Oskosh. He will then come East and address the people of San Francisco. Mr. Harrison favors free trade and a strong prohibitive duty on all exports. Gen. Cleveland's enemies charge him with trying to influence voters by favoring a pension for every man who was in the army. The report that Mr. Blaine has declared his intention of deserting the mugwump party is shown to be premature by a special telegram on his fifth page.

The Campaign Numeral. Has it occurred to you that the figure 8 is the numeral of the present campaign? There are 8 letters in Harrison's name, Vermont sent 8 unwavering delegates to the national convention in '88, Harrison's election is certain, as also his re-election, serving 8 years. We thus have six 8's which united gives 48, the number of years elapsed between the election of the grand old man and his grandson. We find in 48 the seventh 8, and again multiplying we have the age of our candidate when elected, viz., 56. At any rate our candidate is no light weight, and this grab shop of stag will certainly be unable to resist the plans of the desperado and inveterate enemy. Their deviation from a temperate course on the tariff February 8, seems to indicate a danger and irritate in an immoderate manner the suborning of the degenerating depreciating Democratic party. As sure as 88 on November 8, 1888, (though this 88 is a day or two 18) Grover and his will certainly be unable to resist the plans of the desperado and inveterate enemy. They say that Rome is a capital illustration of his own remark that "when God wants a good man he makes him as ugly as a mud fence."

It is told that a tree cut in the forest near Augusta, Ga., at six o'clock in the morning, and by night had been turned into newspapers, which people were reading.

There is likely to be a large migration of colored people from Florida to Nicaragua soon. Some who are now there send back very encouraging reports.

The Pope is suffering from a liver complaint and is losing strength. He has been ordered to take mineral waters before breakfast. He continues to work and receive visitors.

A man down in Dickson county, Tennessee, planted watermelons just at the edge of his farm, and the vines ran over into a neighbors field and produced so many and such large melons that the neighbor is about to sue for trespass.

A Gentleman of Boston bought a large lot of land at South End about 20 years ago for what was paid $5,000. He closed the last of it recently, and his receipts from the sale of the same lot netted him $250,000.

A new patent candlestick keeps the candle perpendicular, no matter how the stick may be held. The main principle of the invention is a ball joint of the simplest kind at the bottom of the socket, the latter being fixed to an arm from the side of the base and extending to the center. The comfort and safety of the contrivance is apparent.

Cornelius Vanderbilt and Elliott F. Shepard allow each of their six children a certain amount of pocket money each month, and they are required to keep cash accounts and present them to their parents the first of the month. The amounts are not large, and are given more to make the little millionaires understand the value of money than anything else.

Sir John Millais says of modern sculpture that so fine is much of the work produced by our contemporaries that he verily believes that "were it dug out from under oyster-shells in Rome or out of Athenian sand, with a stamp of partial dismemberment along their plaintive wail: 'We can do nothing like that now.'"

France is surprised at the operation of its new divorce law. The first year such a thing as a divorce was recognized by the law there was 1,800 granted, the second year 4,000 and the third year 4,500. Sixty women demanded divorce for every forty men, and in more than half the cases that come before the courts there are no children. There are four divorces for every 1,000 marriages in France now, and in Paris the rate is forty-seven for every 1,000 marriages.

Mr. Alfred Nobel, the inventor and chief manufacturer of dynamite, is emphatically a man of peace, and deprecates the use of the explosive a destroyer of human life. "If I did not regard it as on the whole a great blessing to humanity," he said recently, "I would close up all my factories and never make another ounce of the stuff." He detests the use of dynamite by the Anarchists, and when he heard of the Haymarket butchery at Chicago he exclaimed: "I would like to gather the whole crowd of them into a storehouse full of dynamite and blow them all up together."

A famous man-eating tiger has been captured alive in India. A pit was dug for a trap and baited with a live bullock. After two days the beast came around and promptly jumped into it. To capture him a second pit was dug near the first and the same depth. From this a tunnel was run to the first pit, a thin wall of earth being left between the end of the tunnel and the pit. A strong bamboo cage was pushed into the tunnel from a second pit. A goat was placed in the cage, and the wall of the earth was broken down. The tiger sprang upon the goat, and the cage was quickly closed, and the beast was fast, and stayed so until he was in Calcutta.

Not long ago Lord Wolseley declared that England, so far as coast defenses are concerned, is in a lamentably weak condition, and that a foreign fleet would have no difficulty in inflicting great damage upon the cities located on the coast. The London papers ridiculed the assertion and sneeringly alluded to "Lord Wolseley's Scare." But it was finally decided to try by maneuvers of the British ships whether or not there was any ground for Lord Wolseley's conclusions. These maneuvers were of an interesting character and the result bore out the statements of Lord Wolseley. In spite of the most watchful care on the part of the defending squadron, the attacking squadron easily entered the British ports and it had belonged to a hostile nation could have done infinite damage to life and property.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Dakota Republican Convention Assembles at Waterville.

Liberal and well directed efforts had made Army opera house a bright and patriotic place for the holding of Dakota's mammoth convention. The "White Caps" were designated by banners, streamers of bunting floated from the ceiling and on the walls were many a patriotic emblem.

Harrison Allen, chairman of the territorial committee, called the convention to order. After prayer by the Rev. E. S. Uplike of Brookings the convention proceeded to elect the officers of the convention.

A Detective Initiated with the League.

A short time ago a detective was hired by prominent Indians men to investigate and report on the activities of the "White Caps" or "League." He joined the organization and became a member, and was sworn in by a branch organization.

Once admitted he was again subjected to many curious tests in order to test his loyalty. The first of these was to see if he found himself convicted of having committed a crime with sinister motives and to be therefore condemned to death.

He was given an opportunity to confess and save his life. These stages of the initiation being passed, the detective was ordered to be unforgotten. These consents in the ennumerating of a long list of mock names, the detective was to be a member of the "White Caps."

The President Sends a Message to Congress Relative to the Fisheries Treaty

The President sent to congress on the 29th a message relative to the fisheries treaty. The fisheries treaty by the Senate. Heretofore immediate legislation, conferring upon the President the power to suspend the operation of the law, and to regulate the trade in fish and shellfish and merchandise in bond, across or over the territory of the United States to or from Canada.

Legislation is also recommended that will give Canadian vessels navigating our canals, precisely the same advantages granted American vessels in Canadian canals, and that both be measured by the same rule of discrimination. The message in full follows:

To the Congress: The rejection by the Senate of the treaty just negotiated for the settlement and adjustment of the difference between the United States and Great Britain concerning the rights and privileges of American fishermen in the ports and waters of British North America, has not only justified a survey of the condition to which the pending question is thus limited. The action of the Senate in rejecting the treaty of 1818, through disagreements as to the meaning of its provisions, has been a full source of irritation and trouble. Our citizens engaged in fishing enterprises in the adjacent waters have been subjected to numerous vexatious interferences from the authorities of the United Kingdom, which have been entirely unendurable, and they have been treated with discrimination and injustice and officials in a manner excessively harsh and oppressive. This conduct has been justified by Great Britain on the ground that the treaty of 1818 permitted it, and that the United States had no right to the power jurisdiction of Canadian waters. We deny that treaty agreements justify the United States in the exercise of such a claim, and we have no objection to the power jurisdiction of Canadian waters. We deny that treaty agreements justify the United States in the exercise of such a claim, and we have no objection to the power jurisdiction of Canadian waters.

For the adjustment of the long standing national differences which we have to do with Canada, it is necessary that we should have a treaty which will be a source of peace and harmony, and not a source of irritation and trouble. The treaty of 1818, which was the basis of the present treaty, was a source of peace and harmony, and not a source of irritation and trouble. ## DOINGS IN MINNESOTA.

The dates of the Wright county fair have been changed to Sept 25-28.

An unknown laboring man was run over and fatally injured by a steam engine on the Manitoba track near St. Paul.

The artisan well at Benson has reached a depth of a little over 500 feet and they are still drilling in solid rock.

At Winona 411 dogs have been licensed. A good many have been killed or sent to farmers to avoid the tax.

Willie Warner, eleven years old, was drowned in the river at the cement works while bathing at Mankato.

Applications are coming into the normal school at Winona, so rapidly that the prospects are good for an overflow of students. The large attendance is usually has.

The Red Wing fire department will not, in all probability, contest for one of the prizes at the Minneapolis exposition. They do not think the prizes large enough.

Miss Mary Keyes, who has been in the public schools of Winona for twenty-two years, has resigned her position to take a place in the normal.

John B. Till of Lake township has been put under $300 bonds to keep the peace toward F. J. Schmauss of Lake City, for three months. He is accused of threatening to kill Mr. Schmauss.

Already 170 feet have been reached at the Freeborn gas wells of the Minnesota Natural Gas, Oil and Fuel Company, of Albert Lea.

Col. Sheehan, White Earth Indian agent, completed another inspection of his berry pickers and having found better picking than last year, Mr. Pilgrimage ordered them to return to the reservation.

A six-year-old daughter of Charles Johnson, at St. Cloud, was run over by a runaway and shockingly mangled, probably fatally. The left leg had been stepped upon and the flesh torn from the bone by the calks of the horse's shoes, and hardly a bone was left.

We have to say generally of the wheat crop, says the editor of the Moorhead News, that it is not as good as it promised to be earlier in the season. It is not well filled; the heads are small, and the berry is shrunken. The yield will not greatly exceed last year's crop, and we doubt if it will not be so foul with weed and grass.

Capt. B. P. Shuler and other ex-members of the Ninth Minnesota regiment are making arrangements to reunite that regiment at L. P. Plumber Post hall, Minneapolis, on Friday Sept. 14. The reunion battle at the state fair will take place on the day following, and survivors from different points of the state are expected to visit St. Paul and Minneapolis at that time. There are about two hundred and fifty Ninth Minnesota regiment men still living in Minnesota.

Capt. W. A. Thompson, of the United States engineer corps, arrived at Lake City and will put a force of men at work to repair the damages done by ice last spring to the government pier at this place and Stockholm, Wis. He thinks $400 will cover the expense of repairs.

A party of Winona merchants, consisting of Messrs. Preece, Matthews, Van Norman and Fleishman, were driving into Minnesota City, when the neck yoke broke as they were descending the hill near the water. The team immediately ran. Messrs. Preece and Matthews jumped from the carriage, but Mr. Matthews was killed. The horse was killed. The carriage was wrecked.

A Minneapolis business man named Tender Davis at the Union depot recently, and the affair culminated in quite a lively set-to. Schumaker wanted to catch the Manitoba train for Lake Minnetonka. In his hurry he was going to dispense with the formality of showing his ticket. Davis objected in a very emphatic manner, and the men scuffled. The result was that Davis was badly hurt, and his blood was spilled. It is said that the employees at the depot are not disposed to be accommodated, and that travelers are subjected to gross insult.

Considerable feeling has been aroused among some of the citizens of Winona owing to the intention of the Southwestern railroad of constructing the road along the south side of the lake, thereby practically rendering the beautiful drive on that side useless for pleasure or business.

Clouds of Birds.

The writer of "Under the Rays of the Aurora Borealis" gives a vivid picture of a scene in the Arctic regions. The steamer was passing the northern shore of the Scandinavian peninsula, the great frozen North on the one side, and on the other what seemed a continuous mountain wall, falling into the sea. "At length we round the cape of the peninsula, and see the famous bird mountain, Svaerholtklub, jet black in color, one of the most remarkable sights in the world. Along every one of the innumerable terraces, caused by the stratiform formation of the mountain, and all of which run nearly parallel, white birds, sit in rows, like soldiers on parade. From the mountain terrace and cavity in the mountain snow-white birds rise in millions—looking at first like a gigantic foaming torrent—which rise and descend the enormous blocks, with deafening cries and so great is their number that at times mountain, sky and sun are obscured."
